

Cake Mixing Ceremony at Peerless Hotel

The AICUF Society of Loreto College was invited to perform carol singing at the Cake Mixing Ceremony hosted at the Peerless Hotel on 28th November. The event was attended by a large number of distinguished guests, making it a prestigious and festive occasion.

The AICUF members reached the venue in the afternoon and conducted a dry run prior to the program, as the performance was scheduled to be held in an open-air setting. This rehearsal helped the choir familiarize themselves with the space and ensure a smooth performance. The choir was conducted by Mrs Ingrid Rozario, whose guidance and direction played a key role in the successful presentation.

The official program commenced at approximately 4:30 p.m., during which the AICUF choir presented a selection of Christmas carols, contributing greatly to the joyful and celebratory atmosphere of the ceremony. The performance was warmly appreciated by the audience.

Following the program, the members were invited to join the guests for high tea, which provided an opportunity for fellowship and interaction.

The event was a memorable experience for the students, allowing them to represent Loreto College and the AICUF Society while spreading the spirit of Christmas, unity, and joy through music.
